COMPANY PROFILE

Our partner is an international software company that delivers its Connected Experience Platform within and outside Europe. They enables more than 100 million interactions for clients in the retail, BPO, utilities, financial services and communication sectors. The platform combines customer contact and 360 degree customer orientation with knowledge (management) and process automation, allowing users to focus on the customer instead of the underlying systems. The main office is located in Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

FUNCTIE OMSCHRIJVING

As a DevOps engineer, you will work with your team to solve various challenges within the product line(s) you are working on. Your team is responsible for the complete life cycle of the product. You will determine the best way to deliver components.

You take responsibility for achieving positive, agreed-upon results so their customers and partners can use their platform to their satisfaction. You are versatile, and the focus may vary from sprint to sprint.

Customers always have new requests, and they are constantly working on development, so you will constantly be optimizing and expanding our services.
