COMPANY PROFILE

This company is a fast-growing and ambitious Fintech in the Dutch market that wants to make administration as fun and easy as possible for entrepreneurs. No hassle with different tools. All documents, bank accounts and payment orders conveniently in one app. This gives entrepreneurs more time to do what they are really good at: running a business. At the moment, the company is in the start-up phase, and they are working on becoming the market leader in the Netherlands. Once this target has been achieved, they will go to the European market.

JOB DESCRIPTION

They are currently looking for (lead) full stack engineers who will make a real impact by expanding their next generation Cloud platform, APIs and infrastructure that enable SMEs to run their business easily, quickly and securely.

As a Lead Developer you lead a fast-growing team of excellent & strong full stack developers with a background at large scale-ups such as Klarna and The Zone. You will learn to work in a multi-disciplinary team, with Product Management, Client Support, Marketing & the Partners to realize their vision and build the next generation platform. You build, develop and lead a high performing team that meets or exceeds the development goals. Not only that, but you involve your colleagues in the organization and help them to develop further. This promotes an open collaboration environment in which best practices are shared. You support and drive need-based initiatives through communication, coaching, sharing best practices and calibrations.
