HAYSTACK PEOPLE

PHP Symfony Developer | Healthcare

ScaleUp | Vast | 80k

COMPANY PROFILE

Our partner is the leading provider of medication management in both the Netherlands and Scandinavia. Their services enable thousands of people who need medication to receive support for its proper use through their automatic medication dispenser. This improves patient safety and medication adherence. They help clients age independently in their own homes, where they prefer to be. By doing so, they contribute to reducing the pressure on home care services, allowing these services to focus on more complex care needs. They deliver their services in collaboration with healthcare organizations, pharmacists, pre-packagers, care centers, and other partners in the care chain.

THIS IS THE ROLE:

As a Symfony Developer, you will become part of the Cloud team responsible for the Cloud platform. This Cloud team is the heart of the organization and is responsible for the operational management, handling tens of thousands of medication dispensations per day. The Cloud team operates according to Agile principles and consists of 8 developers with whom you will closely collaborate. Within the team, there is plenty of room for your own input and creativity.

These are the responsibilities

You will work in the scrum development team, with whom you will have daily contact. The tasks will be divided between software development and operational duties. Software development focuses on optimizing the processes surrounding medication dispensation from the Medido dispensers. You will make a significant contribution to this optimization by designing and developing solutions.
The Cloud you will be working in consists of various microservices. Depending on where they are deployed worldwide, the components may differ (for example, due to GDPR compliance). Virtual machines with Linux are still used. Additionally, a large portion already operates in Kubernetes. In the near future, they aim to further migrate this to the public cloud. As an experienced developer with DevOps capabilities, you will naturally make a strong contribution to this

THIS IS YOU:

- You have 4+ years of experience in PHP;
- You have knowledge and experience with Linux, MariaDB, and RabbitMQ;
- You have knowledge and experience with Docker, Kubernetes, and Ansible;
- You are familiar with continuous integration and continuous deployment;
- You work according to Clean Code principles; You are a true team player and easily take on a coaching role towards developers with less experience;
- You are eager to learn and up-to-date with the latest developments in DevOps.

OFFER:

You will work in a rapidly growing, young, and professional company that is making great strides internationally. The team is highly motivated, has a social mission, and works according to a mentality where hard work and having fun go hand in hand. They value a lot of freedom in your role and room for initiatives combined with a healthy work-life balance.
Additionally, they offer:

- A competitive salary. For this position, between €4,500 and €6,000 gross per month based on 40 hours per week;
- A good pension provision. After all, you want to have it well arranged later on;
- 25 vacation days based on 40 hours per week;
- They provide all the tools you need;
- Ample opportunities for advancement in various directions within the organization;
- Working days and hours are flexible and can be discussed.
