HAYSTACK PEOPLE

Senior PHP Developer | Hosting (ENG)

ScaleUp | Vast | 90k

ABOUT OUR CLIENT

With more than a million domain names our client is one of the largest domain name registrars/web hosting companies in the Netherlands. Their solutions help support hosting companies in all facets of their business. Ranging from domain registration to hosting as a service, from superfast domain checks to dunning and payment services.
Gouda, besides being the city of Cheese and Stroopwafels, is the base of their operations.

ABOUT THE POSITION

As a Full Stack Developer you are responsible for the further development of the platforms. They are continuously improving and expanding their systems, both in terms of user-friendliness and technology.
Think of super-fast APIs that provide a smooth reliable service even for the largest hosting companies, but also a functional and white label control panel that customers can log into.
The development team is small and enthusiastic. You as a developer have a great deal of responsibility and ownership of the code and can therefore learn a lot of new skills quickly. You get the space to bring your own ideas and to grow in the role that suits you best. Because we release quickly and often, you see immediate results of your work!
Their stack

- PHP (o.a Symfony)
- Javascript
- Beanstalk
- Redis
- Mysql
- Rest APIs (JSON)
- EPP (XML)
