HAYSTACK PEOPLE

Medior Fullstack JavaScipt developer

StartUp | Vast | 60k

COMPANY PROFILE

Our partner is a fast-growing and ambitious Fintech in the Dutch market that wants to make administration as fun and easy as possible for entrepreneurs. No hassle with different tools. All documents, bank accounts and payment orders conveniently in one app. This gives entrepreneurs more time to do what they are really good at: running a business. At the moment the company is in the start-up phase and they are working on becoming the market leader in the Netherlands. Once this target has been achieved, they will go to the European market.

JOB DESCRIPTION

They are currently looking for a Medior Fullstack Developer who will make a real impact by expanding their next generation Cloud platform, APIs and infrastructure that will enable SMBs to run their business easily, quickly and securely.
As a Medior Fullstack Developer you will be part of a fast-growing team of excellent & strong full stack developers with a background at large scale-ups such as Klarna and The Zone. You will learn to work in a multi-disciplinary team, with Product Management, Client Support, Marketing & the Partners to realize their vision and build the next generation platform. You build and develop with it. You involve your colleagues in the organization and help them to develop further. This promotes an open collaboration environment in which best practices are shared.
As a developer you will work with:

- Cutting edge technologies and AWS architecture;
- A Node.JS based microservice application (front-end in React);
- Complex financial services PSD2 platform, with its security, compliance and privacy requirements.

JOB REQUIREMENTS

- You have 3+ years of experience with NodeJS and React
- You have AWS experience
- You have experience with Typescript
- You have experience with GraphQL
- Knowledge of (micro)services and Docker is a plus

WORKING CONDITIONS

A salary up to 65k, good working conditions and travel allowance.
