WHAT IS IT THAT THEY DO?

Our client has built a platform that allows to offer online streaming service for adults. Quite simply, live webcam shows. However, this is not just any platform, because it generates global high traffic which therefore requires quite a bit of engineering. This technology was developed by its CTO who won an international hackaton. A nice bonus is that the win provided a substantial fund for the development of the platform. So it is not just any software!

So what distinguishes this platform from others? Due to the application of the latest trends and techniques, this can be seen in the platform where many gaming elements have been added. You can think a bit like twitch, but for adults. Because of all the new elements, fresh look and new techniques, the platform has quickly become popular with more than 200 models live each time.

WHAT IS IT THAT YOU WILL BE DOING?

Of course, you will not be in contact with the models or be seeing the models because they use a fond. (unless you don't want to use the fond of course ;)) You will ensure that the users and models get the best possible platform to achieve the ideal user experience. In a rapidly growing global team of 7 developers, you will be working on new features to create more possibilities. This will ultimately ensure the most complete platform possible.

You can think of implementing new payment systems where you are in direct contact with the developers of the payment systems to a good integration. Creating a new achievement system, API links, unit testing, and much more! You are responsible for ensuring that the look of the front end is as appealing as the models themselves. There is plenty of work, and now they need you to make the platform even more stable and user-friendly.

You don't have to work on site, as the team is located all over the world. Usa, Israel, Taiwan, China and the Netherlands. Because of the work in the different time zones, a lot of responsibility is expected from you and in return a lot of freedom in your work.

WHAT IS IT THAT YOU HAVE TO DO?

You don't have to master everything yet, but the more you can do, the more that translates into your compensation! The CTO is a world-class developer, so he can guide you well to become a top developer as well.
