ABOUT

AppyThings is a Dutch integration consultancy that designs, secures and manages API landscapes for large enterprises. Since 2014 they have focused on connecting systems in smart, maintainable and secure ways.
No feature factories but specialists who understand the layer where systems truly meet.
They work with proven technologies such as Apigee, Google Cloud Platform, Anthos, Azure and increasingly Kafka for event driven integrations. Their work powers digital identity, large scale data ingestion, logistics chains and customer facing API platforms used by millions.
The team is technically strong and highly collaborative. Culture matters here. Consultants are trusted faces at clients so being social, communicative and pro active is just as important as technical depth.
